Keeping Your Holiday Packages Safe

You know who else loves this time of year? Thieves! Imagine all those holiday packages left on doorsteps by everyone from the post office to Amazon. It's like waving a red cape at a bull.

Here are 5 tips to thwart these so-called "porch pirates":

1. Use Amazon Key – This tool connects with your smart devices and allows Amazon delivery people to leave packages inside your front door, the garage or the trunk of car.
2. Use Amazon Locker – If you're not comfortable with a stranger entering your home, look for an Amazon Hub Locker nearby. The delivery person will deposit your packages inside and then send you a special passcode in order to retrieve your items.
3. Install a BoxLock – These are essentially smart padlocks. The delivery person scans the package, and if the bar code matches, the box opens so they can leave it inside. This is a good alternative if you don't want someone going into your house.
4. Install security cameras – A visible security camera might deter thieves if they think they're being observed. Check out services like Ring or other doorbell cameras as well.
5. Have packages delivered to work – Perhaps the easiest solution is scheduling deliveries for your office. Simply put your work address as the destination.

Road Tripping

November 22nd is “Go for a Ride Day”. The road trip is an American tradition. In honor of this special day, we’re sharing some of the best road trips from TimeOut.com.

The list includes:

- Route 66: 2,500 miles from Chicago, IL to Santa Monica, CA.
- Blue Ridge Parkway: 469 miles along the Appalachian Mountains of Virginia and North Carolina.
- Great River Road: 3,000 miles (the longest scenic byway in the U.S.) along the Mississippi River, from Minnesota to the Gulf of Mexico.
- Highway 1 along the California coast.
- Anchorage to Valdez: 300 miles through the Alaskan frontier.
- Overseas Highway: 113-mile stretch of US-1, which connects the Florida Keys, from Key Largo to Key West. It includes the famous Seven Mile Bridge.

Drive Safe This Thanksgiving

Millions of drivers will hit the road for Thanksgiving. That's millions of potential hazards. We've got 5 tips to help you arrive safe so you can enjoy turkey day.

1. Get your car serviced before you go.
2. Focus on the road (not your phone!).
3. Stop to rest every 2 hours or 100 miles.
4. Stay alert for other drivers, motorcycles, and trucks.
5. Keep valuables out of sight if you leave the car.

5 Ways to Lower Your Homeowners' Insurance Rates

Homeowner's insurance is necessary. Not only are you required to have it, it's absolutely essential thanks to the threat of hurricanes. However, there are things you can do to lower your monthly premiums.

1. Raise your deductible.
2. Bundle home and auto policies.
3. Add safety features like hurricane shutters and a security system.
4. Raise your credit score.
5. Find the guaranteed LOWEST rates from Estrella Insurance!
