INSURANCE

New Car Buyers

Did you know that you will still be covered by your current insurance policy when you buy a new or used car, without having to notify the insurance company that same day? All you need is proof of insurance coverage in order to drive the car off the lot.

However, some dealerships hope you don't know this. Beware of any dealership that tries to force you to buy a policy from their "preferred agent". This is a complete scam and is unethical on the part of the dealership. If you run into this situation, please refer to your Declaration Page/Policy Jacket or consult with your local Estrella Insurance Licensed Agent. We are here to make sure you always pay the lowest price and get the protection you need.

Fire Up the Grill for Summer

It's National Grilling Month. Pool parties and BBQs take center stage in the summer, but it's important to remember essential safety tips so you (and your house) don't get burned. Here are 7 safety tips from the National Fire Protection Association.

- Never use grills indoors
- Keep the grill away from your home, deck railings, leaves & low-hanging tree branches
- Keep kids & pets at least 3 feet away from the grill area
- Remove grease & fat buildup from the grill & trays before using it
- Never leave the grill unattended
- Always open gas grill lids before lighting it
- Only use charcoal starter fluid

Hurricane Season Checklist

Hurricane season is here and this year is already proving to be very active (hello Elsa!). We may very well experience other storms. Now is the time to review your hurricane strategy when it comes to securing your home, car, boat, and other essential property.

Tips for Protecting Your Car

Cars are especially vulnerable to damage from wind, flying objects, and flooding. Make sure your insurance policy is up to date and that you have enough coverage if you experience damage. Here are some tips to protect your car before, during, and after a storm.

1. Take your car in for complete basic maintenance now in case you have to evacuate.

2. Put together an emergency road kit, including:

- Jumper cables
- Gas canister
- Tool kit
- Tire jack
- Flashlight & batteries
- Radio w/ batteries
- Blankets
- First aid kit
- Motor oil

3. Put your cars in the garage. If you don't have a garage or covered parking, many cities will allow you to park in their public garages during storms.

4. Stay informed about the latest storm updates and tracking.

Tips for Protecting Your Home

Preparing your home for a hurricane is essential in order to keep your family safe. Here are some tips from Readers Digest.

- Know if you live in an evacuation zone & where you'll go if you have to leave
- Prepare an emergency kit
- Review your homeowner's policy
- Inspect your roof
- Buy sandbags in case of flooding
- Clean out your gutters
- Secure outdoor objects that could become missiles
- Buy canned/perishable foods & enough water for everyone for 3 days
- Put up storm shutters or wood
- Buy extra prescription medications
- Secure important documents

Tips for Protecting Your Boat

Boats can be particularly vulnerable to storm damage. It's important to make a plan to secure any watercraft. Here are some tips from West Marine.

- Make a plan for securing your boat in advance
- Review & understand your insurance policy
- Take your boat to a safe location
- If you have to moor your boat, find a location with the least amount of fetch (waves)
- Use long lines & moor your boat to a fixed dock or pilings
- Set multiple anchors
- Replace old dock lines
- Removing anything that can catch wind
- Stay informed about the storm
