Sunnier days in the forecast? Drive into spring with a shiny and clean ride. It's that time of year for dusting away the mess with some spring cleaning. The thought of cleaning may sound like no fun, but it feels so good to start fresh and polish up your automobile. Here are 5 tips for you.

1. Use the right tools: It helps assemble a small set of supplies for repeat use for the inside and the outside. Here are some items we suggest - two buckets (one for your car washing solution, the other one for rinsing sponges or a mitt), an assortment of sponges, rags, a hand mitt, microfiber towels, car shampoo and conditioner, exterior and interior detailers, tire cleaner, and of course a vacuum cleaner.
2. Clean the floor mats: If you have floor mats, they're great for protecting your car floor but are also one of the things that get the dirtiest. If you have all-rubber car mats, use your hose to wash them down. For carpet mats, vacuum separately. Allow to air dry.
3. Add some sparkle to the windows: Use a glass cleaner and paper towels to clean windows and other glass surfaces, including the windshield, back window, and side mirrors. Taillights, LED daytime running lamps, headlamps, and fog lights can also be cleaned with window cleaner.
4. Hand-wash the exterior: A delicate and smooth wash is the best option for your car's exterior. It creates a sleek look without damaging your car's paint. Using a carwash solution instead of dish or household soap gives your car a good clean while preserving the natural finish.
5. Clean tires and wheels: When washing your tires, use non-acid products to get an excellent clean without damaging the tires with harsh chemicals. Use a stiff brush to remove any tough grime that has worked its way into your tires, and something small, like a toothbrush, can be a helpful tool to reach the smaller areas in your tire.

And don't forget, cleaning your car will save you tons of money, just like we do when it comes to your car insurance policy.

ARE DRIVERS GETTING BETTER OR WORSE?

While our cars might be getting better and smarter with additional safety features, studies indicate that people's driving skills might be getting worse. There are reports of reduced red-light running in the past three years, but that may be due to an increase in traffic cameras.

Dangerous driving behaviors like speeding and using a handheld cell phone pose dangers on the roadways. So why have car accidents in the US increased? It could have something to do with psychology, a fast-paced lifestyle, and additional distractions.

Let's remember that having good driving habits matters! Don't text and drive, be cautious of your speed, and drive defensively, not offensively. You'll keep your car insurance costs low, and more importantly, you'll keep yourself and those around you safe and sound.
